San Jose Boxers Rack Up Four TKO's In 6-2 Win Over Nevada Wolf Pack

By HAL SOUSA

Paced by the lethal-punching of Heavyweight Don Schaeffer, the Spartan boxing team added the third straight victim to their ring diary by pounding out a 6-2 win over the University of Nevada in Reno last night.

Schaeffer beat Big Ed Hollingsworth into submission in two rounds of milling. For the Washington Square clouter it was kayo victim number three in as many outings.

San Jose got off to a fast start in the 125 pound bout with Manuel Martinez putting his Wolf Pack foe on the canvas in one heat. Nevada failed to send a man into the 130 pound match, giving Coach Portal's crew a forfeit.

In the 135 contest Martin Rodriguez outpointed Spartan's Dave Gray. After two convincing victories, Jim Nutt lost by the decision route to Bob Thronsen, classy Nevada 145 pounder.

Another TKO was scored by the gold-clad invaders in the 155 pound tussle. Former PCI champ Wayne Fontes pounded Jack Swobe with a two-fisted attack in racking up a TKO triumph.

Nevada lost the second bout of the evening by a forfeit when the Reno ringmen failed to enter a pugilist in the 165 pound bout. Pete Fransuch, PCI 175 title holder, won the next match with a nod over Stan Drakulich.

Coach Portal carried along two extra heavyweights for the Reno invasion. The two added attractions found the Spartans coming out on top in both matches. Rod Richardson added a TKO over Don Eccles in two rounds. The final engagement found Sparta's Jim Edgeman edging John Kentera to end the hostilities.

Military Society Sponsors Dinner

The Silver Saber society will hold its first smoker of the year Feb. 8 at the Sainte Claire hotel. Prospective pledges to the military honor society will attend, Jim Zane, president, announced yesterday.

SJS Mentors Meet Tuesday To Hear Report

The local chapter of the American Association of University Professors will hold its first meeting of the quarter Tuesday at 12:30 in room H3, announced Dr. Harrison F. Heath, president.

The Fairness committee will conduct a panel discussion of its findings so far this quarter.

"All new faculty members who held membership in the association on other campuses are urged to come to the meeting, or at least to let us know that they are members so that they may be notified about subsequent meetings," Dr. Heath said.

The local chapter has about 62 members. Dr. Benjamin F. Naylor is the secretary-treasurer.

TC, DTO and SAE Win Cage Games

Theta Chi, Delta Theta Omega, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon were victors in the intra-mural basketball games held last night in the men's gym.

Theta Chi came from behind in the second half to drop Theta Mu Sigma, 31-24. SAE joined the winning ranks by topping Kappa Alpha, 23-19. DTO had too much height for Phi Sigma Kappa and won, 30-26.

Phil Morehart and Ted Wallace of Theta Chi scored 12 and 10 points respectively. Bob Scurfield netted 11 points for Theta Mu.

Clements Tells AWS of Jobs Open for Girls

"Thousands of women are needed to fill positions in the fields of teaching, health service, and selling," stated Mr. E. W. Clements, assistant to the Dean of personnel, in an address to AWS members Wednesday afternoon.

"Over one million teachers, particularly in the elementary fields, will be needed in the next ten years," Clements revealed. There is also a great demand for dental technicians and surgical nurses. The speaker remarked in closing that training in these fields ultimately may be adapted to home-making.

The speech was followed by a short business meeting. Additional members were added to the committees for the Annual AWS Valentine dance, to which girls ask boys. It was announced that bids will sell for one dollar each.

Discussion of an AWS service project, consisting of the collection of clothing and small luxuries to be sent to a children's home in England, was carried over to the next meeting.

All women student body members are invited to attend these meetings which are held each Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 in room 24.

Mental Health Worker Speaks

Dr. Rush Faville, head of the mental health service of Santa Clara county, will discuss the functions and methods of treatment in the county's mental clinic at the next regular meeting of the Psychology club.

The Mental Health service was recently incorporated to work with and advise teachers, social workers, and nurses.

The meeting will be held Feb. 8 at the Congregational Church (student center) at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments and dancing will follow Dr. Faville's speech.

The Psychology department invites all interested students to attend.

Guest Critic Cool Toward 'Love for Love'; Opening Daily Reviewer is Warmer

By VERN BAKER

"Love for Love," Congreve's comedy of manners directed by Dr. James Clancy, opened last night before a receptive audience that both appreciated the efforts of the cast and filled the Little Theater.

Working against a background of effeminate Restoration scenery, costumes, and manners, Cliff Roche as Mr. Foresight, and James Forster as Scandal, quietly stole the show from the rest of the cast.

Roche Holds Audience

Roche played an eccentric astrologist who belonged more in a novel by Dickens than in a Restoration comedy. His actions and mannerisms, speech and gestures, had the audience attention from his entrance in the second act until the final curtain.

Forster turned in his usual brilliant performance. As the witty Scandal, he was one of the few actors who retained their Restoration accent and mannerisms through-out the play.

First Night Jitters

Although suffering from first night jitters occasionally, Ann Gindhart as Angelica and James Jensen as Valentine, the romantic leads, also turned in notable performances.

Joan Buechner and Betsy Smith also deserve credit for their interpretations of their characters. Bill Gillis added much of the comedy relief as Ben, son of Sir Sampson Legend.

Ivan Van Perre, who has played many bit roles was strained. This is one he should have passed up.

Conrad Smith who played the effeminate tattle was at first artificial and stereotyped but later improved. This critic wonders, however, how long his voice will hold out.

Also seen were: Don Holladay, Sir Sampson Legend, Paul Beaudry, Jeremy; Matt Pelt, Trapland; Harney, Snap; Gwen Samuelson, Prue; Bette Rehorst, Nurse; and Gloria Pitcher, Jenny.

Congratulations to Miss Sinco and Mr. Johnson for the fine costumes and sets which gave the play mood and background.

By CAROLYN HACKMAN

A mildly interested first night audience squirmed through four acts of Congreve's "Love for Love" last evening. Only the sparkling characterizations of a note-worthy few enlivened an otherwise rather tedious presentation of a play whose really witty dialogue was obscured by an unfortunate glibness on the part of student actors.

Costumer Holiday

It was, however, a costumer's holiday, and certainly Madeline Sinco succeeded in designing costumes aptly fit for the characters who wore them, even to the effeminate frills of the mannered Tattle. The brightly robed figures moved in a background of Restoration flavor, thanks to Wendell Johnson's highly imaginative and stylized sets. Much of Congreve's ribald humor was lost on the audience, surprisingly enough. Bedroom doors opened and closed without a murmur.

Cliff Roche, as the doddering old fool, Foresight, literally stole the show with his humorous and genuinely convincing portrayal. James Forster was a smooth Scandal and one who made his presence felt on the stage. Credit goes to Conrad Smith, the foppish Tattle, who simpered through his lines with a freshness that delighted the audience.

Don Holladay was vaguely amusing, though painfully so later, as Sir Sampson, and the two sisters, Mrs. Foresight and Mrs. Fraill, played by Joan Buechner and Betsy Smith, respectively, handled their superficial roles with skill. Gwen Samuelson as the bucolic country bumpkin was a delight as she bounced about on the stage and breezed through her punchy lines with abandon.

Romantic Leads Disappointing

The two romantic leads, Ann Gindhart as Angelica and James Jensen as Valentine were totally disappointing, and did not make their primary importance as leads felt. Jensen's rather colorless characterization was particularly noticeable; in fact, there was but a shade of contrast between his mad scenes and his periods of normalcy. Ann Gindhart's coyness and other cliched facial expressions took on a deadly monotony. Note is made of Paul Beaudry as Jeremy, who displayed a fine mobility of facial expression.

Soph Hop Gets Underway at 9 Tomorrow Nite

The spotlights will shine on the Sophomore class tomorrow night—the stars of their own "Hawaiian Heaven." The dance is a dressy-sport affair which they will present in the Civic auditorium from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Brent Wilson and his 12-piece orchestra, all in full Hawaiian regalia, will play for Spartan couples who attend.

Bill Patterson, dance chairman, said yesterday that a master of ceremonies will "keep things rolling" and will introduce the three San Jose State college co-eds who will dance at intermission time. The Hula girls are members of a group which appeared recently at the Royal Hawaiian hotel in Honolulu.

"Hawaiian Heaven" promises to be a real island heaven, according to Pat Macfadden, decorations chairman. An authentic "little grass shack" will adorn an "island" to be placed in the middle of the auditorium floor. Twenty palm trees are being brought from Berkeley along with the hundreds of flowers which will deck the halls of the auditorium. Crepe-paper leis and tropical fish are to add to the authentic Hawaiian atmosphere. The three Hula dancers will wear flowered leis flown directly from the islands for them.

Attendance Slips

Veteran students under the State of California educational program are reminded that they must turn in their attendance vouchers at the Veterans' office by Feb. 10.

Veterans office sources say failure to turn in the vouchers may delay subsistence checks for the month.

Art students under P.L. 346 or P.L. 16 must complete their books and supplies buying by Feb. 11. Mrs. Florence Kellenberger of the Veterans office said.

Pictured above is Aulani Kiesel, who will dance at "Hawaiian Heaven" tomorrow night. She and her partner, Elaine Malama, will be introduced by John Tiotto, master of ceremonies for the sophomore-sponsored dance. Minnie Norona will sing and play the ukelele for the two Hula dancers.

Job Date Set

The date for Compensation Insurance applications and interviews has been set for Feb. 9, announced Miss Doris Robinson of the Placement office, yesterday.

Requirements for positions as Compensation Insurance Assistant are: citizen of the United States, completion of college or university or a senior in any academic institution who will soon graduate, Miss Robinson stated.

Examinations will be held in Sacramento, San Francisco, and Los Angeles. The salary range is $220 to $268. Appointments to positions will be either in San Francisco or Los Angeles, she said.

Candidates Named

Candidates for initiation to Tau Gamma, women's Physical Education honor society, were announced at the regular meeting last Tuesday evening.

Names of the pledges, as read by President Edith Thompson, included those of Patricia Klein, Irma Tourtillot, Patricia Gardner, Marilyn Hein, Flora Woods, Jessie Fanger and Edith Williams.

Plans were also made for initiation ceremonies which will be held Sunday, Feb. 6, at the YW-CA, under the direction of the club officers.

THRUST AND PARRY

Shades of Carrie Nation!

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Congratulations to the basketball team. There was no shame in dropping that close one to Stanford, 50-49. Thus, athletically speaking, we're getting close to "big-time."

But how about other matters? A state law says there can't be bars within a mile and one-half of a university. And it's dry within that distance of the Stanford and Cal campuses.

San Jose State, however, is discriminated against. We've got those dens of iniquity, so inconducive to our cultural progress, just a block away.

Those horrible places keep students broke financially, affect their grades and just plain de-grade them mentally.

Therefore, we feel that the legislature should not forget about San Jose State and make the mile and one-half law applicable here as well.

Yours for better education and higher moral values,

Constantine D. Kazarinoff,

ASB 5041;

Richard S. Fortier, ASB 4631;

Robert E. Harpenter, ASB 4848;

Anthony M. Sumares, ASB 7229;

Stadler Seeks To Stimulate

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—A radio announcer sought today to inspire a romance between two camels at Griffith Park zoo in Los Angeles.

Glen Stadler, newscaster for the Farmers Union Grain Terminal association, broadcast an appeal to Minnesota farmers and livestock men for information on how to stimulate the regard of one camel for another.

The Los Angeles zoo keepers reported that their three-year-old male charge, Hal, was girl-shy. They put a lady camel into the cage with Hal, they said, but Hal wasn't hospitable. He ran.

Stadler asked his listeners to "send in a solution to the problem of the reluctant camel." He said he would pass on any suggestions to the Los Angeles keepers, who, having spent $1500 for Hal's lady friend, wondered what to do next.

Rickey-ticker Two-beat Jazz Clubbers Bother Be-boppers

By JOHN ROMERO

The recent addition of a New Orleans two-beat jazz club to the numerous campus organizations brings a groan of indignation from the followers of the more modern type of music.

The old hue and cry of "What a bunch of cornballs" goes up from loyal be-boppers, jive hounds, and Guy Lombardo fans. They are right, to a far greater extent than they realize. The modern day cats are returning more and more to the ragtime "jass" of the early 1900's.

Why some enterprising group of promoters even scouted around and found old Bunk Johnson (the famous New Orleans trumpet player of the 20's) working in the corn fields, fitted the old gent some store teeth and a brand new horn, hunted down the remnants of his old band, and started him raking in the dough in a New York hard drink emporium. The people love it. The cats block to hear venerable Bunk, and believe me, the stuff he plays is pure, home grown, maize (corn to you, Herm).

Cornballs Hear Records

Something akin to Johnson's music can be heard on record in a local coffee shop, thickly populated by Spartan "cornballs." A gent by the name of Lu Watters from San Francisco has assembled a competent group of old time rickey-tickers, foot warmers, and two-beat corn-drippers, and refers to them as his "Yerba Buena Jazz Band." The Yerba Buena significance nobody has been able to figure out, as Yerba Buena happens to be an island in the middle of San Francisco Bay, with no apparent musical shortcomings or forgoings.

Nevertheless, Watters' records are worn thin from the nickel droppings of true lovers of good old, down to earth, low down corn. Such phrases as "gut bucket," "dirty trumpet," and "slush pump trombone," strictly abhorred by the followers of Sammy Kaye, Kay Kayser, and Dizzy Gillespie, are synonymous with Watters' (and I use the term loosely)—musical efforts.

Striking closer to home, let's cock an ear, open an orb, and see if presently the strains of "Down Among The Sheltering Palms" don't come floating over the campus. They are usually accompanied by several pairs of slightly off-key tonsils, and an eight dollar

Move for Alma Mammy

A well known group currently gracing Washington Square known as the "540" boys has popularized this moth-perforated classic to the extent that there is a strong movement underway to make it the school alma mammy.

The ukelele, an odd looking, banjo shaped instrument which our fathers and mothers tossed in the attic some 20 years ago, fits right in with the scheme of things, and, according to statistics from local music stores, was the favorite gift last Christmas.

Ed. Professor Speaks to Girls

By MABEL G. CRUMBY,

Asst. Professor of Education

May I chat with you girls who were not "bid" to a sorority? It's stupid for me to tell you not to care, but it's a matter about which you should not care too much. I write this as a sorority woman myself who has derived much from her own association. And why? Because many of the very finest college women do not belong.

Perhaps they were not chosen because the rushing season was too superficial for the sororities to really know their worth; perhaps they lacked that "something" that makes one shine in a social gathering; perhaps they couldn't afford it; perhaps they had more absorbing interests so couldn't give the time that sorority life demands.

Realize that you may have been "dropped" because only one or, at most, a very few members of a sorority did not feel in rapport with you, while the others very much wanted you.

Don't forget that with so few sororities in relation to the number of women students at college, only a few can be chosen.

Remember that, sorority or non-sorority, you can make yourself a vital member of our San Jose State family. Make yourself many lasting friends here, take a mature outlook on life, and remember that someone has wisely said, "What happens to one is not so important; it's how he takes it."

Staters Reveal Engagements

Carol Anderson

Alpha Chi Omega members were treated to five pounds of candy recently when Carol Anderson announced her engagement to Forrest Talley, Jr.

Miss Wilda Merritt, faculty adviser for Alpha Chi read a poem revealing the romantic news.

Miss Anderson is a junior natural science major at SJSC. Her home is in Live Oaks.

Talley, a former Spartan from Santa Cruz, is employed locally.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Frances Butti

Members and pledges of Delta Zeta sorority learned of the engagement of Frances Butti to Eugene Haynes when she passed the usual box of candy at Wednesday night's meeting.

The bride-elect is a senior at SJSC majoring in dietetics. Her fraternal affiliations are with Delta Zeta, Alpha Delta, dieticians' club, and Eta Epsilon, home economics society. Miss Butti's home is in Carson City, Nev.

Haynes, who is from Hollywood, attended San Jose State college last year. He was a member of the track team, and majored in industrial arts. The benedict-elect is now serving with the US Navy.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Frat Honors Alumni Guests

Sigma Alpha Epsilon members and pledges were hosts Friday night at the fraternity house, Eighth and San Antonio streets, to over 30 alumni members living in the San Jose area, states Mike Thomas.

Dinner arrangements were taken care of by Don Butler, John Nail, and Al Rosegna. Fraternity songs were sung following the dinner. Also a brief talk was presented by Barry McNutly, traveling supervisor for SAE.

Movies featuring athletics and cartoons were shown by Ralph Klindt. The members spent the rest of the evening playing cards.

According to Alumni secretary George Milias the San Jose State alumni attending the affair were Emerson "Doc" Arends, Bob Barton, Dick Lowell, Dick Driscoll, Phil Freeland and Bob Fisher. Other alumni represented colleges all over the United States.

Faculty Members Speak at Smoker

Dr. Earl C. Campbell and Major Kingsley were speakers at a Delta Sigma Gamma smoker, Jan. 27, at a local hotel.

The fraternity entertained 25 guests.

Movies of San Jose State college football games were shown at the smoker.

Refreshments were served.

Special Date Book Group Submits Calendar Plan

By LEONARD KREIDT

Bob Cronemiller, ASB vice-president, presented The Emergency Date Book committee its suggestions to untangle Date Book problems to the Student Council Monday evening. The temporary emergency committee was created by the Council Jan. 18, and will be superseded by a permanent committee to handle the Date Book.

The committee has asked for the creation of a Student Activities board. Such a board would be composed of one member each from the Student Council, Panhellenic council, Inter-Fraternity council, AWS, WAA, and a student member from the Men's P. E. department. The Student Council member is to serve as chairman and the AWS member as secretary. One delegate-at-large will be appointed by the Council. The committee is to meet weekly.

New Board's Responsibility

The SAB is to be responsible for date applications, releases from traditional functions, release complaints, all problems relating to the Date Book and other related activities.

A coordinating calendar, to contain all dates of activities entered in the Date Book, is recommended by the emergency committee. It would facilitate handling of reservations made by campus organizations. It would be maintained by the SAB in the ASB office. A traditional function calendar similar to the coordinating calendar would also be maintained.

Panel Names Dates

Traditional functions are defined by the emergency committee as major events which are held each year on the same date. These functions will be assigned dates to be entered in the Date Book immediately by the SAB. Traditional functions named by the committee are: Valentine's Day Dance, Inter-Fraternity Formal, Military Ball, Soph Hop, Junior Prom, Senior Ball, Sadie Hawkins Day, Homecoming, Wintermist, Spardi Gras and Revelries dances.

Open Date Requests

The committee also recommends that other functions be assigned permanent dates if they are important enough.

Requests for open dates (those open to the whole student body) must be submitted to the SAB at least four weeks prior to the earliest date choice given. Applications must be submitted to Dean of Women Helen Dimmick. Acceptance or rejection of applications will be posted on the bulletin board outside the Dean of Women's office.

Closed Functions Must Apply

Closed functions, open only to organization members and their guests, must be entered in the Date Book. Applicants must file information cards with the SAB and secure releases from both closed and open functions having priority on the desired date.

The committee recommended that departmental programs for the following year should be submitted to the SAB at least four weeks before the end of Spring quarter.

The Emergency Date Book committee was composed of Bob Cronemiller, chairman, Dean of Women Helen Dimmick, Major Earl R. Kingsley, Dolores Arnold, Bill Swasey, Ron LaMar, and Mr. E. W. Clements.

Council action on the report was postponed till next week to enable members to study the proposals.

Vacation at Nature School Offers Six Units in Science

By JAMES H. HAYES

How would you like to earn six units of science credit in a three-week tour of California's mountain and seaside vacationland?

You can, by registering for the three sessions of field nature study offered by the West Coast Nature school from June 26 through July 16, according to Dr. Gertrude Cavins, WCNS registrar.

The school, with signing completed for a field trip in Death Valley during the spring vacation, will open registration soon for courses at Sequoia National Park, June 26 to July 2; Fallen for one, two or all three sessions."

Transportation and accommodations will be arranged and paid for by each student, Dr. Cavins explained. However, a general camping group will be organized if registration warrants. If organized, the camping group will be under Dr. Alexander McCallum's direction.

According to the announcement the WCNS summer sessions will be directed by Dr. P. Victor Peterson. Dr. Carl Duncan will instruct insect study; Dr. Robert Rhodes, wild flowers; Dr. Karl Hazeltine, mammals; and Miss Emily Smith, birds.

Dr. Cavins will attend each session as registrar and secretary. "Announcement of the date and time of registration will be made in the Spartan Daily so that all interested students will have equal opportunity to attend," Dr. Cavins concluded.

DR. DUNCAN

Leaf Lake, July 3 to 9; and Asilomar, July 10 to 16.

"The fee for each week's session will be $15," the registrar said, "and we will accept students

Add Five Honor Students To Academic Scholar List

The names of five more students who have met the requirements for membership in the Society of Academic Scholars were released recently by Dr. Richard H. C. Dieckmann, the group's faculty adviser.

The new additions brought to 34 the number of students eligible to enter the organization this quarter. Requirements include upper division standing and a 2.0 average in one of the academic fields.

A round table discussion and plans for the organization for the remainder of the school year is the business of the group's meeting in the Art building tonight.

The eligible students whose names were released include: Jack William Johnson, psychology; William J. Adams, French; Ralph E. Miner, social science; Janet Giacomazzi, mathematics; Dorothea Shultz, psychology.

Giant Navy Plane Starts Non-Stop Washington Flight

MOFFETT FIELD, CAL., Feb. 3—(UP)—Trailing two long plumes of jet smoke, the Navy's new 180 passenger Constitution, largest commercial-type land-plane in the world, took off from here today on a non-stop flight to Washington.

Its jet assist units giving an added kick to the four huge engines, the Constitution became airborne at 8:55 a.m. PST, carrying 90 passengers and crewmen on the 2,560-mile hop to Washington National Airport.

The plane, designed by Lockheed Aircraft, was hauling more persons than have ever been carried on a non-stop transcontinental flight.

SPARTAN-AZTECS IN CRUCIAL TILT

League Battle in Gym Tomorrow Nite

By ARNOLD WECHTER

In what could be the deciding battle of the California Collegiate Athletic Association's basketball race, San Diego State and San Jose meet for the second time in the Spartan gym, tomorrow night at 8 p.m. The Spartans are at present leading the 2C2A with two victories and no defeats. The Spartans and Aztecs met a month ago in a ferocious double overtime game in San Diego. The Bordertown five held the lead most of the way, but the Spartans pulled the season's opener out of the fire, 55-52.

Spartans 10-pt. Favorites

Post-time will probably find the Spartans entering the court as a ten point favorite. Their past performances against the strong Stanford quintet and the country's top team, the Oakland Bittners, indicate that they deserve the favorite's role.

San Diego rests its hopes for victory on a smooth functioning, well-balanced starting five. Forwards Tom Keesey and Don Nuttall, center Dick Barnes, and guards Don Smith and Bill Hutchison.

Defensive Ace

Bob Wuesthoff

Keesey has been the team's top scorer throughout the year. He currently is sporting an 11 point game average. But the Aztecs are far from a one man team, lowest point-per-game average on the first team is 7.2 with the others around 8 even.

No Freaks

Like the Spartans, the San Diego five is not on the freak side when it comes to height. The Aztecs boast of one man, Dick Barnes, who is over the 6 ft. 5 in. mark. The men from Sparta are exceptionally small for a big time basketball outfit. The Spartans tallest man is forward Don McCaslin, who is four inches over the six foot mark.

Rumors have it that Spartan Coach Walt McPherson has devised a new defense to stop the high scoring visitors. McPherson's defensive maneuvers have caused no end of consternation on the part of his foes this year.

Another factor favors the Spartans in tomorrow evening's tilt, the Aztecs will be meeting the tough Cal Poly cagers in San Luis Obispo tonight, while San Jose is resting.

The preliminary game between the San Jose Frosh and Campbell High is scheduled for 6:15 p.m.

Sparting Shots

By

GEORGE LAJEUNESSE

If basketball games were five minutes shorter this season San Jose State college would have the best team in the nation.

Judging from the last two defeats the squad need not apologize or alibi, for their losing ways.

These losses were at the hands of a pair of the best basketball teams in the country.

The night before last the Spartans locked horns with a team that experts are calling the best in the states—Oakland's Bittners.

The boys who know aren't forgetting the Phillips Oilers for a moment either, and their doings with the Bittners last year.

Since losing to the Oilers last season the Oaklanders have added a few more talented hands in Dave Minor and Chuck Hanger.

Bittners Have Great Record

This season the Bittners have run up a phenomenal total of victories, something like 36 out of 37, to make the Oilers' present efforts look weak.

At any rate, the mighty Bittners huffed, puffed, and wheezed to a squeaky 58-54 victory over San Jose State.

With two minutes remaining the game belonged to anyone until the Bittners got two points on a foul and Ed Voss swished one through to put it on the ice.

Indians Own Crackerbox

Stanford, powerhouse of the PCC cage circles this year, invited the Spartans up to their crackerbox gym for an evening of have-at-it, last Friday night.

The neighboring farmers at Palo Alto are still mopping brow perspiration off over the outcome of that battle.

Seven seconds away from the final gun, with San Jose leading 49-48, Bill Stephenson of the Indians got the call from Lady Luck and tanked an off-the-shoulder flip that sunk Spartan hopes.

One week from tomorrow night Walt McPherson's gang is going to romp and stomp all over Pete Newell's USF Dons, currently rated 10th in the U.S.

If this doesn't happen the Daily sports staff stands ready to give up their page and write society news—the law of averages can't be wrong.

Lanky Dean Giles, a 6-ft. 2-in. hook shot specialist, is one of Walt McPherson's top reserves. He was frosh star last year.

Freshmen Tangle With USF In Cow Palace Preliminary

Coach Tom Cureton will take his freshmen basketballers to the Cow Palace tonight to tangle with the highly regarded U.S.F. frosh.

It will be the toughest game of the season for the Spartababes. The freshmen from the foggy city university have an excellent record. They have easily beaten the St. Marys and Santa Clara freshmen clubs.

The freshmen Spartans, although not favored, possess a fine record of their own, winning 11 out of 14.

Spartan Chi's Attend ConFab Of Coast Colleges in Fresno To Learn 'What Is Success?'

Nine members of Spartan Chi will attend the fifth annual conference of the Chinese Students' Intercollegiate organization in Fresno this weekend, Norma Wong, secretary of the group, said yesterday. Theme of the two-day conference is "What Is Success?" Representatives from Washington, Oregon, Nevada, and California will attend, Miss Wong said.

Activities at the conference are scheduled to include discussion groups and an oratorical contest. On the social side, the conference will feature a dinner and semi-formal dance Saturday evening, and a fashion show and talent show Sunday. A banquet Sunday evening will conclude the session.

Local students will entertain at the talent show with Hawaiian numbers, Miss Wong said. Walter Chang, Stanley Chun, Allen Lum, and Miss Wong will sing. Chang and Lum will play the ukelele.

Spartan Chi members will also take part in a plenary session at which activities of the college organizations will be discussed.

Other members attending the conference from San Jose State college include: Daniel Kim, president of Spartan Chi; Ellen Yuen; George Mock; Bill Chan; and Holland Fong.

Dance Decorations Follow Show Plot

Decorations for the Revelries dance on Feb. 26 will tie in with stage settings used in "How's It Goin'", it was revealed at Tuesday's meeting of the Social Affairs committee.

Barbara Rodenborn, chairman of the decoration committee for the dance, announced that crepe paper and large paper angels will decorate the Civic auditorium.

Dick Cirigliano, business manager of "How's It Goin'", will advise the committee on further plans, Miss Rodenborn said.

'Kodaya' Talk Today Is Last On Local Tour

San Jose State college students will have their last opportunity to hear Dr. O. Warrington, noted Eastern lecturer, speak today at 11:30 in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

The lecturer will complete his week on campus with a talk on "Formulating a Philosophy of Life."

Bruce Craig, student body treasurer, stressed the point that every student should take the opportunity to hear "Kodaya."

"I would cut a dozen classes to hear this great man speak for one hour, and I would recommend other students to do the same," Craig remarked.

Approximately thirty students gathered in the Student Union Wednesday night to hear "Kodaya" speak on "Being a Person of Grace." Starting his discussion with the statement, "Persons are not equal to each other, never will be equal to each other, and never should be equal to each other," the philosopher brought his discussion to its logical climax.

He stressed the idea that the word "equality" belongs in the field of mathematics and has no practical application in the field of life.

Following the informal speech, those present were free to ask questions, and a lengthy discussion followed.

United World Federalists Form SJS Campus Chapter

By JEWEL SCHNEIDER

A San Jose State college chapter of United World Federalists is being formed on campus by Barney Schussel, sophomore social service major.

Schussel was asked to form the group by the executive committee of the San Jose chapter of the national organization.

Policy of the United World Federalists is to work for the eventual establishment of a federal world government. They are also interested in furthering the aims of peace and doing away with the causes of wars, Schussel explained.

National president of the organization is Cord Meyer, Jr., a Marine corps veteran. Among the other national officers are Carl and Mark Van Doren, Cass Canfield, Grenville Clark, Raymond Swing, Mrs. Raymond Clapper, and Edgar Ansel Mowrer.

The following is the organization's statement of purposes:

"... Therefore, while endorsing the efforts of the United Nations to bring about a world community favorable to peace, we will work to create a world federal government with authority to enact, interpret, and enforce world law adequate to maintain world peace:

(1) by making use of the amendment processes of the United Nations to transform it into such a federal world government;

(2) by participating in world constituent assemblies, whether of private individuals, parliamentary or other groups seeking to produce draft constitutions for consideration and possible adoption by the United Nations or by national governments in accordance with their respective constitutional processes;

(3) by pursuing any other reasonable and lawful means to achieve world federation.

Students interested in forming a chapter on campus are asked to contact Schussel by leaving a note in the "S" box in the Coop. The information should include name, address, telephone number, and most convenient time to attend meetings.

The time of the first meeting will be announced in the Spartan Daily, Schussel concluded.

Senior Asilomar Overnight Goes On 'Weather or Not'

The second senior overnight of the current school year gets underway tomorrow, Bob Sampson, senior prexy, announced yesterday. The group will leave the front of the Student Union at 9:30 in the morning. Sampson said that two days of fun are in store for the seniors at Asilomar, near Pacific Grove.

Sampson emphasized that the balance of $2.75 for the trip is due before 5 o'clock today in the graduate manager's office. He also said that each person must provide his own lunch. The group will return Sunday evening.

Sampson cast an eye at the clouds and said, "We'll have plenty of good times, even if it does rain, but I certainly hope it doesn't."

'How's It Goin' Nears Final Stage of Production Here

Director Ray Bishop said that Stu Pinkston, stage manager for the show, has begun work on the set. The Bishop said that Pinkston has some new and novel ideas for scenery that should please any audience.

Tickets for opening night are practically sold out, the Bishop said. He also announced that tickets for other performance nights are going fast.

"If you want to get good seats we suggest you ask for your reservations as soon as possible," he advised.

Arrangements have been made with the Business office so students can make reservations using a pay-as-you-call-for-them system, the Bishop said.

Revelries opens for a four-night run Feb. 23.

General admission is 90 cents; student admission is 60 cents.
